

UNION DEFENDANT IN HEAVY DAMAGE SUIT

Nokosuka Council No. 63, Paper Co. Makers, and Nokosuka Council No. 72, Paper Co. Makers, Shipyard and Mill Workers' Union, that about forty individual strikers, including the late Mr. W. H. Edwards, former employees of the Nokosuka Paper Co. and Port Edwards residents arrested defendants in a $2,500 damage suit against the union. The union was headed by John Kinney, of Nokosuka, thru his attorneys, George, Brazeno & Goss. The complaint charges that the defendants conspired to deprive the union of its property in the union headquarters at Nokosuka, and to deprive the union of its property, defaming the character of the union, and others.

The posters in question, it is said, were hung in the windows of the union headquarters at Nokosuka, and were headed with the words: "Nokosuka Grown Speculation, Infamous Trade Union to Ruinatory, Disgraced." The posters were signed "The Union of the company officers, officials and employees of the mill followed under the leadership of a libelous nature after many to the head, with personal references to the libelous nature after many of the names.

According to local attorneys who have reviewed of cases tried in the Supreme court, damages have been awarded in similar cases, the court holding that posting lists of this nature with defaming remarks included was libelous. It is stated that there were about thirty names included on the first list posted. The second list included about fifty and the third list a few more than the first, it is said. The lists are in the hands of the complainants attorneys, and will probably be the strongest evidence used in the case when it comes before the circuit court.

WE WOULD CHANGE IT

If anybody wants to know how the Tribune stands on the matter of changing the name of the city of Grand Rapids to something that does not confuse, we can tell you without hesitancy that we are in favor of it.

On the consensus of opinion shown to be in favor of Wisconsin Rapids as the new name, we are in favor of Wisconsin Rapids.

Wisconsin Rapids has many advantages over the other name that has been suggested here. It carries with it the name of the state, and the name Wisconsin Rapids alone on a letter or package ought to take the mind of the receiver without any direction. This fact alone is worth consideration.

The only reason we have heard against changing the name are heard from those who are in favor of it.

to become sarcastic when a man advances a sentimental reason for anything, but this is a business proposition, and one in which neither sentiment nor sarcasm should enter.

For years and years we have been overshadowed by a town of much greater population and one that has distinctive manufactures that have caused it to be known all over the country and even in foreign lands and the result is that we have entirely lost our identity. We know v exist here at home, but there are very few away from here who have heard of us, and many of them seem to kind of take it as an offense when we try to tell them where we are located.

When we spend money in advertising Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, it is safe to say that 90 percent of the money expended goes toward advertising in the Chicago area.

Money expended goes toward saving Grand Rapids, Michigan, and that we reap the benefit of the on-tenth that is left.

Men who are not engaged in business where they are dependent upon the mail, express companies, and freight lines for their product, indifferent on the matter of changing the name of the city because the inconveniences are not a part of their life, but they should use their efforts to bring about the change, because there is hardly a day that they are not effected indirectly by the inconveniences of their business associates.

We may, let us change the name. Change it to anything, just so it

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.

April 6, 1920

State of Wisconsin, Department of State, and
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at the time of holding the regular Spring, Judicial and National Delegate Elections, to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election districts of the state of Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday of April, 1920, being the sixth day of said month, in accordance with section 1 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and as directed by Chapters 489 and 504, Laws of Wisconsin for 1919, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, which were twice adopted by the Wisconsin legislature at the regular sessions of 1917 and 1919, and published for three months as required by said section 1 of Article XII of the Wisconsin Constitution, will be submitted to a vote of the electors of the state for their ratification or rejection in such manner as is provided by law (Jt. Res. No. 18, A. S.).

JOINT RESOLUTION No. 37, 1919

To amend section 21 of Article IV of the constitution, relating to compensation of members of the legislature

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1917, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That section 21 of article IV of the constitution be amended to read (Article IV) Section 21. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services at such times and in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. * * * The compensation prescribed for members of the legislature is hereby fixed at the adoption of this amendment shall continue in force until changed by the legislature in a manner consistent with the other provisions of the constitution, now therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

JOINT RESOLUTION No. 92, 1919

To amend sections 6 and 7 of article VII of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin relating to circuit judges

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1917, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That section 6 of article VII and section 7, article VII of the constitution, be amended to read (Article VII) Section 6. The legislature may alter the limits, decrease or increase the number of circuits, making them as compact and convenient as practicable, and bounding them by county lines, but no such alteration, decrease or increase shall have the effect to remove a judge from office in case of an increase in circuits, the judge of judges shall be elected as provided in this constitution and receive a salary not less than that provided for judges of the circuit court.

Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one or more circuit judges, * * * as the legislature may from time to time authorize. * * * Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall hold his office for such term and receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTICE.—It is notified this amendment will permit the legislature to abolish any judicial circuit at the expiration of the term of its circuit judge, to decrease the number of circuits by consolidation or otherwise and to authorize one or more judges for any circuit.

SAVINGS CERTIFICATES SHOWN INVESTMENT VALUE SHOWN

"They Always Are Worth More Than You Paid For Them," Slogan of 1920.

"They are always worth more than you paid for them."

With this as their slogan representatives of the War Savings organization of the Seventh federal reserve district are touring the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin showing banks, corporations and individuals the high investment value of the 1920 Treasury Savings certificates of $100 and $1,000 denominations. This form of government security has been placed in local banks, and for the financial prosperity of the nation and the individual, the government is using a wide distribution.

The Treasury Savings certificates, which are virtually "baby" bonds, bear interest at a rate a little better than 4 1/2 per cent. The price of the $100 certificates for January is $82.40; February $82.60. The price increases 20 cents a month. The $1,000 certificates may be purchased in January for $824 and in February for $826. This class of security increases $2 a month.

There are some of the attractive features of the $100 and $1,000 certificates:

"They carry valuable tax-exemption privileges.

"They cannot depreciate in value, not being subject to market fluctuations."

"They are always worth more than you paid for them."

"They yield a substantial income, actually more than 4 1/2 per cent."

"They are short term maturing January 1, 1925."

"They represent absolute safety as obligations of the United States government."

A change has been made in the terms of the 1920 certificates. They are redeemable at the treasury beginning with the second calendar month after the month of purchase without the ten days' demand required by the terms of the 1919 certificates.

A special issue of Treasury Savings certificates has been put on the market for conversion purposes. It is possible for the holders of 1919 and 1919 War Savings certificates to convert them into these special Treasury Savings certificates, whose terms and conditions are substantially the same as those of the 1920 issue except for their earlier maturity dates.

Holders of one or more War Savings certificates of the 1919 or 1919 issue which bear War Savings stamps having a total maturity value of $100 or some multiple of a hundred dollars—$200, $300, $400, etc., may exchange the certificates for the same maturity value of Treasury Savings certificates of the corresponding issue. When two or more War Savings certificates of the same issue are offered for exchange, each one need not bear its full complement of 20 War Savings stamps, provided the total value of the stamps aggregates $100 or some multiple of it.

Treasury Savings certificates taken in exchange may be made out in favor of new and different owners, if the owners of the War Savings certificates so request.

WOMEN ARE KEEPING BOOKS IN 1920 THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Feminine Army Starts Three Months' Test to Pay Way for Safe Investment.

The savings division of the treasury department is depending on the women of the nation not only to help bring down the high cost of living, but to establish the permanent practice of saving money and material, and finally the investing of these savings in safe securities, such as War Savings stamps and $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings certificates.

Under the signature of William Matthew Lewis, director of the savings division, a letter has been sent to the presiding officers of all the principal women's organizations of the country. The general plan for the work of the women in 1920 has been worked out in a national way by Mrs. Grace G. Bartlett, vice director in charge of women's organizations.

Supplementing the letters sent out by her and Director Lewis, a similar letter has been sent to all the women's organizations in the five states of the Seventh district that have no national title chairman. In his letter Director Lewis said in part:

"The influence of women in working out the great economic problems is invaluable. It is in the power of women to regulate the use and control the price of the necessities of life. They are the buyers. They must also be the savers. When this power is applied in a concentrated way, women will be one of the greatest factors in solving the present problem of the high cost of living and in establishing the permanent practice of saving money and material."

The savings division called into conference the national title chairmen of the following women's organizations: Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Daughters of the American Revolution, General Federation of Women's Clubs, National Catholic War Council, National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher's associations, National Council of Jewish Women, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, National League for Women's Service, Women's department, National Civic Federation, Young Women's Christian association.

"It was agreed that these organizations should be asked to make a test among their membership of the wisdom with which money is spent. This test was to be started January 1 and continued as an experiment through February and March. The plan is as follows:

"January—To keep accounts. Each individual will be asked to keep an account of her daily expenses, grouping them under such items as rent, food, clothing, household service, amusements, incidentals, etc.

"February—To save. Each individual will analyze the January expenses and make an effort through information gained in January to save a certain amount through conservation without hardship.

"March—To invest. Each individual will make a calculation of how much was saved on living expenses in February over an equal number of days in January. In this month an effort will be made to encourage the members of these organizations to invest their savings in government securities."

TWENTY KILLED IN BERLIN RIOTS

Members of Radical Mob Shot Down by Machine Guns.

FIGHT OVER WORKERS' BILL

Thirty Thousand Radicals Storm
Reichstag and Furious Battle Occurs on Steps of Building—100 Reported Wounded.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Minister of Defense Noske showed his teeth to the radicals again when machine guns were turned on a mob of communists and independent socialists who attempted to storm the reichstag.

A furious battle on the very steps of the reichstag was the climax to a demonstration of a mob of radicals estimated at 30,000 who had left factories and shops at noon and poured through Unter den Linden and the Tiergarten to the parliament building in order to protest against the so-called "Betriebsratsgesetz," a bill that would place the workers' councils in the various industries on a legal basis.

Twenty of the mob are dead and more than one hundred wounded.

The occasion of the demonstration was the second reading in the upper house of the net controlling factory councils in the reichstag. Independent socialists declare that the act does not meet the demands of the workers, and Die Freiheit, a radical socialist organ, published an appeal in the name of 15 unions—some unions say without authority—to all workers to stop work at noon and assemble in front of the reichstag at three o'clock.

Such by then, radicals in the front ranks forced the mob to move more ground. Then, with only a handful of troops opposing them, the radicals tore away rifles, knocked the soldiers down, kicked their heads and chests, and threw them helpless over the battlements to the concrete pavement eight feet below.

These soldiers hadn't attempted to use their arms, but their comrades coming to the rescue fired shots over the heads of the mob. After a moment's hesitation they, too, were attacked. The reserves were ordered out. They fired into the mob and used machine guns.

For three hours strings lined of riot, women and children marched through the streets toward the reichstag center—the reichstag. To all appearances they were harmless, as the friends of the bolsheviks say, and as they gradually filled the entire wide Koestelplatz between the reichstag and Tiergarten only an occasional fire, orator beneath a red flag sustained the interest. Thousands began drifting home and their places were taken by others, so while there were probably 100,000 participants there were only 50,000 at one time before the reichstag.

In conformity with the new policy, which signified the recent report of martial law by Minister Noske, the radical troops were not in sight. Only about twenty militarized police were strung across the long, wide steps of the main entrance.

Departures however increased, and at three o'clock correspondents and photographers began to leave, thinking the demonstration was over. But it was the radicals who remained. Within the great circle of humanity they were the inner circle. There the anti-government speeches and flag waving increased. The police did not interfere. They allowed the demonstrators as far as the lower steps and even on the sloping roadway leading to either side of the higher steps to the building.

Then the vanguard began squeezing forward. It gained the steps this time. One rush was attempted, but the police forced it back a few steps, then leveled rifles, and the movement stopped.

The crowd milled up and down the broad steps. From its midst a shot was fired, the bullet sending up a puff of white smoke from the sculptured ornaments high overhead. The crowd thought the firing came from the police and trembled, but there were no further shots. Fighting free, two police staggered away. Pieces of broken rifles were hurled at them, knocking one down. He was thrown to the pavement, below.

It was ten minutes since the first shot. Two minutes more and from the sides of the building came rifle shots. Then the machine guns rattled.

Forty thousand fled. Ten thousand stood, thinking the shots were only to frighten them. A few hundred radicals followed the fleeing police to a side door. The machine guns were loosed again and the last fled, dragging the wounded.

WORLD PEACE IS SIGNED BY 13

Allies and Germany Put Treaty
Into Effect—U. S. Not Party to Ceremony.

GERMAN PRISONERS GO HOME

Signatures Put to Historic Document
Fourteen Months After Armistice Went Into Effect—Ceremony Occurs in French Foreign Ministry.

Paris, Jan. 13.—The treaty of Versailles, making peace between Germany and the 13 ratifying allied powers was put into effect at 4:15 Saturday afternoon, 14 months after the armistice went into effect, by the exchange of ratifications.

The entire ceremony, which took place in the hall of the clock at the French foreign ministry, was completed by 4:16.

Frederick Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German mission, signed the protocol of November 1, providing for repatriation for the shipping of the German warships at Scapa Flow and to issue the carrying out of the armistice terms. The signing of this document occurred in the office of the minister of foreign affairs. Von Lersner affixed his signature to the protocol at 4:00.

The United States was not a party to the exchange of ratifications of the treaty.

Following the two ceremonies the documents were handed to French officials for deposit in the archives. The records will be printed on large sheets of quarto parchment paper and the seals of each plenipotentiary will be affixed with the signatures.

M. d'Arcilly will go to Berlin to act as French chargé d'affaires there.

Another immediate result of the ratification will be the repatriation of German prisoners of war.

Peaceful relations between Germany and the greater number of the nations engaged in the great war with her are established by the action at Paris. The peace treaty now goes into effect as between Germany and the thirteen powers that have finally ratified it.

Great Britain was the first of the five great powers represented in the supreme council of the peace conference to take such action, being followed in succession by France, Italy and Japan. The United States alone of the "big five" has not ratified the treaty.

ILLEGAL TO STORE LIQUOR

All Legally Acquired Spirits Must Be Removed to Private Dwellings
Before January 17.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Persons having in storage warehouses, safe deposit vaults and other places, "legally acquired" intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes, must remove it to their private dwellings on or before January 17, 1920, under a ruling issued by the bureau of internal revenue. "Legally acquired liquor," it is explained, "is liquor bought prior to July 1, 1919."

If liquor is found in places other than private dwellings and government bonded warehouses after February 1, and report of its possession has not been made to the bureau of internal revenue, it will be subject to seizure and the places in which it is stored may be declared a public and common nuisance, the commissioner ruled.

EVIDENTLY A PERSON OF SOME MEANS

HIT AT UNDERTAKERS HOUSE OUSTS BERGER

PREY ON GRIEF FOR YANK DEAD, IS CHARGE.

Claimed by Senator That They Urge Return of Soldiers' Bodies
From France.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Charges by relatives of American soldiers buried in France that undertakers and others were attempting to commercialize their grief in connection with the movement to have the bodies brought home, were presented to the senate by Senator Thomas (Dem.) of Colorado.

"I do not know whether the charge is true," Senator Thomas declared, "but it is in line with a number of circumstances that developed since the close of the war, showing there is some sort of an organization that is designed to derive profit from the plan of returning the bodies."

Senator Thomas had asked that a letter from a New York woman bearing on the question be published in the Record, but on suggestion of Senator Lodge (Rep.) of Massachusetts it was referred to the military committee.

The question of bringing home the bodies of American soldiers buried in the battle lines in France got into congress anew with a hearing of 200 persons asking for their return, and later by the introduction of a resolution by Chairman Foster to direct the president to have the bodies returned.

Stephen T. Barry, former captain of infantry, and secretary of the American Field of Honor association, asked the committee to give a hearing to the association's representatives before acting finally.

The association numbers among its directors former President Taft, John H. Puley, Henry Morgenthau, Morgan O'Brien, Ralph Wise, Mrs. Elmer J. Sheppard, Bishop Tier, Samuel Compers, Myron T. Herrick and Cornelius Vanderbilt.

U. S. COURT BARS WET PLEA

Highest Tribunal Refuses Permission to Liquor Men to Bring Test Case
—Has No Jurisdiction.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The supreme court denied permission for the New Jersey Retail Dealers' association to bring original proceedings in the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the national prohibition amendment and uphold its enforcement in New Jersey.

The court held it had no jurisdiction. Arguments on the motion of the state of Rhode Island for permission to institute original proceedings to test the constitutionality of the federal prohibition constitutional amendment and uphold its enforcement in that state were heard by the court.

Attorney General Herbert A. Rice of Rhode Island attacked the manner in which the amendment was ratified, and contended that it was revolutionary and invalid. Solicitor General King argued that the supreme court was without jurisdiction.

CHARGE DENIED BY PERSHING

Writes House Committee That There Was No Wastage of Life on Armistice Day.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Charges made before a house war investigation committee that lives of American soldiers were wasted in needless attacks on armistice day are denied in a letter from General Pershing, made public by Representative Fuller, Republican of Massachusetts.

Poincare Elected Senator.

NEWS OF THE BADGER STATE

Markesan.—Dr. John R. Freudenburg, arrested on a charge of having caused the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Duffin, was released on cash bail of $30,000, put up by his wife. The amount of bail was set by Judge Chester N. Fowler at Fond du Lac. Dr. Freudenburg is alleged to have caused the death of his mother-in-law through the injection of mustard gas. Mrs. Duffin is the fifth member of the family, one of the wealthiest in that section of the state, who died under circumstances considered unusual. District Attorney Paul, in charge of the prosecution, will urge a speedy trial. It may be assigned to the June term of the Green Lake county circuit court.

Madison.—Many applications for modifications of the state building code have been filed with the industrial commission, in the last few months. In these applications builders and building owners have sought to secure permission to make use of somewhat cheaper construction than is required by the state building code for assembly halls, hotels and apartment houses and other public or quasi-public buildings.

Racine.—Ptomaine poisoning resulting from eating of canned corn in a downtown cafeteria caused considerable excitement in the establishment of the Zahn Dry Goods company when ten of the lady clerks became violently ill in quick succession. Physicians, hurriedly called, succeeded in neutralizing the result of the poisoning, although it was found necessary to send several of the cases to a hospital for treatment.

Appleton.—Appleton home-builders are facing another increase in the cost of building now that the masons, bricklayers and plasterers have presented a demand for $1.25 an hour, effective March 1. They are now receiving $1 and $1.10 an hour. Carpenters and plumbers will soon present a demand for $1 an hour. They are now being paid at the rate of 65 cents an hour for eight hours' work.

Madison.—Under the Wisconsin statutes, nomination papers for president, vice-president and delegates to national political conventions may now be circulated in this state. The same law provides for the filing of the papers with the secretary of state on Tuesday, Feb. 24, being the last day this year on which they may be filed to get on the election tickets for the primary in the spring.

Madison.—Confronted with insistent public demand for cheaper food, Badger farmers will meet here Feb. 3 to 12 for a statewide conference on "How to Meet the High Cost of Farming." Production costs in farming are mounting, and the immediate emergency can no longer extend relief to Austria. While it was the duty of the United States to come to Austria's relief this year he said European nations responsible for her downfall by the treaty terms should bear the burden thereafter. Mr. Hoover appeared in support of the request of Secretary of the Treasury Glass for authorization for the use of $100,000,000 by the grain corporation for the purchase of food for the people of Austria, Poland and other European countries.

Hoover Says Europe Must Supply
Food for Victims of War—Wants American Aid Stopped.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Herbert Hoover told the house ways and means committee that the United States should serve notice on the world that this government after the immediate emergency can no longer extend relief to Austria. While it was the duty of the United States to come to Austria's relief this year he said European nations responsible for her downfall by the treaty terms should bear the burden thereafter. Mr. Hoover appeared in support of the request of Secretary of the Treasury Glass for authorization for the use of $100,000,000 by the grain corporation for the purchase of food for the people of Austria, Poland and other European countries.

De Soto.—In drilling a well in this village, Willis Harkin, a Victory wood driller, at a depth of 111 feet, encountered an obstruction of wood, presumably a log which has lain there for centuries. Pieces of the trunk were brought to the surface, but they were in too advanced a stage of disintegration for one to determine the nature of the original tree.

DR. FREUDENBURG ARRESTED

Physician Taken to Jail—Brother of "Mustard Poisoning" Victim
Signs Complaint.

Markesan, Wis., Jan. 14.—A warrant charging first degree murder was served on Dr. John A. Freudenburg in connection with the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Duffin, who is said to have died of "mustard poisoning."

The warrant was served after a consultation between Prosecutor M. J. Paul, who came here from his home in Berlin, and Acting State Atty. McDonald. Dr. A. Freudenburg, brother of the slain woman, is the complainant.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR REDS

Bolshevik Report Capture of 25,000
Prisoners, 650 Guns and 650
Machine Guns.

London, Jan. 13.—The capture of 25,000 prisoners is claimed in an official statement issued by the soviet government at Moscow, giving details of the results of bolshevik operations on the southern front between December 21 and January 9. The soviet statement says that 450 cannon, 50 bomb throwers, 11 tanks, 650 machine guns and enormous quantities of military supplies also were taken.

Doctor Scott to Go Free.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 15.—Indictment of Dr. Christopher G. Scott on a murder charge in connection with the death of Elizabeth Griffiths, his office assistant, was refused by the Jefferson county grand jury.

Michigan Banks Prosperous.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15.—Announcement was made at the Detroit clearing house that state and national banks of Detroit made increases in their capital and surplus accounts aggregating $1,000,000.

Johns Hopkins Chief Better.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 14.—Dr. Frank J. Goodhue, president of Johns Hopkins university and former constitutional adviser in the Chinese republic, who suffered a broken leg, was reported to be resting comfortably.

Last Best Troops Home.

New York, Jan. 15.—The last contingent of troops parading at the military camp at Brest arrived here in the transport George Washington, which brought 237 officers, war workers and civilians and 615 troops.

Gen. Edwin S. Greeley Dies.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 13.—Gen. Edwin S. Greeley, who was brevetted a brigadier general in 1895 for meritorious conduct in action and one of the best known bankers in Connecticut, died in his eighti-seventh year.

Eagle River—The Ed. M. Hammes

company will erect a plant here for the manufacture of wood products. Plans are for a factory which will employ about forty people and to be operated by electricity.

Appleton—More than $125,000 in being expended in eastern Wisconsin on new toll circuits for the Wisconsin Telephone company according to an announcement from the district manager's office here. About 1,300 miles of copper wire is being used to increase the number of lines available for long distance telephoning. In addition equipment is being made. Nearly $25,000 is being expended in Appleton on similar amounts will be spent in Fond du Lac, Green Bay and Oshkosh.

Beloit—Mrs. Adolph Anderson is

near death in a hospital here suffering from burns received in an explosion of kerosene which was using to start a fire in the kitchen range at her home. Her husband was painfully burned in extinguishing the fire which had spread and was threatening to destroy the house. Mrs. Hans Anderson also suffered burns received in smothering the flames in her daughter-in-law's clothing.

Manitowish.—In spite of the fact that increases amounting to $30 per month have been granted in the past eighteen months the city firemen are back with a petition to the council asking for a further increase of $20 per man per month. The matter has been referred to the committee on fire and police. It is expected that should an increase be granted the policemen will file a similar request.

La Crosse.—For the second time in six months Louis Ruch, detective for the Milwaukee road, was found guilty of murder. Ruch was charged with second degree murder for shooting and killing Fred Zunker on March 15 last in the local railroad yards. He swore that he shot in self-defense. Since his acquittal at the first trial, Ruch has been working for the Milwaukee road at Winona, Min.

Madison.—Dist. Atty. Ragan Heilmann and Chief of Police Shaugnessy, Madison, have laid upon a new machine of stopping the automobile speeding in Madison and Dane county. They propose to not only fine the driver of the speeding car, but lock up the car for a given time, probably for as many days as the number of miles the car is going above the speed limit.

Green Bay.—Joseph Schneider, New France, Brown county, has added new laurels to the county by winning the state two-acre corn growing contest and has been awarded a prize of $100. Schneider raised 120 bushels of golden gold corn on each of the two acres he planted.

Bau Claire.—Bau Claire is to have a sixth bank. Water street business men have applied to Madison for a charter to establish a bank on Water street and most of the stock has been subscribed. The Bau Claire State bank will open for business here within a few weeks, making Bau Claire's fifth banking institution.

Cedar Grove.—The Cedar Grove State bank will erect a new modern building and the capital stock of the bank will be doubled from $50,000 to $100,000. General prosperity throughout the county has resulted in a great increase in bank deposits. The Cedar Grove State bank was organized in 1901.

Kenosha.—Charles Imberstadt was ground to death between the wheels of a railroad train after he had crawled under the gates at a crossing. The body was hit by a train, which carried it some distance, and cut it to pieces. The victim was a prominent baker.

Kenosha.—Fire early destroyed a large ice house at Powers lake, near this city. The damage is estimated at $60,000. The place had a storage capacity of 60,000 tons of ice and had been partially filled. It is suspected that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Rhineland.—Onida county, of which this city is the county seat, gained more than $1,000,000 in new capital during 1919, according to figures just made public. Of this amount $450,000 is invested in timber or timber products.

Merrill.—The Cloverdale Dairy farm owners tried the experiment last summer of riding sunflowers for entilage, planting 16 acres. The entilage is coming out in fine shape and is proving excellent feed for their dairy stock.

Racine.—Members of the Racine fire department will, beginning Feb. 1, have one day off in three. With new men added to the department the membership will be increased from forty-seven to fifty-three.

Neenah.—Automobileists will have to traverse the bridges at a speed of eight miles per hour or under or be subject to fine, according to a ruling of the city council.

Madison.—Reports that the headquarters of the American Society of Equity for the Wisconsin branch of the American Society of Equity were to be moved from Madison to Milwaukee were denied by Wisconsin President J. N. Titterton.

Sheboygan.—Thousands of chickens, pigeons, guinea pigs, cats and rabbits were placed on display on the opening day of the annual show of the Sheboygan Poultry and Pet Stock association. Entries are from all parts of Wisconsin.

Rhineland.—Under auspices of the Rhineland Women's club, a class in citizenship has been formed here for the instruction of women voters. Sup. M. V. Boyce of the Onida Co. Training school has been engaged as instructor.

Neenah.—This city's actual fire loss during 1919 was but $72. The total damage by fire was $2,013.35, but all but the sum given was covered by insurance. The department responded to twenty-six calls during the past year.

New London.—A vote in favor

of incorporation was taken by the village of Reynolds. A request has been made of the state for a charter to permit the establishment of a bank in the village.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE AND W. J. BRYAN CLASH ON LEAGUE

Sharp Differences of Opinion May Result in Split in Democratic Party.

WILSON FOR POPULAR VOTE

Should Advocate That the People Should Cast Their Ballots on Peace Treaty—"Commoner" Would Compromise.

Washington, Jan. 8.—A direct, sharp difference of opinion between President Wilson and William J. Bryan over whether the League of Nations should be made an issue at the coming election marked the Jackson day deliberations of the Democratic party chiefs.

President Wilson, in his message read to the diners, said that the "clear and single way out" was to submit the question to the voters as "a great and solemn referendum."

Mr. Bryan held that the Democratic party could not go before the country on the issue, because it involved a delay of fourteen months, and meant success only if the Democrats captured a two-thirds majority of the senate.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S LETTER.

Congratulating the party upon the opportunity offered to be of service to the country in the matter of the League of Nations, inasmuch as his "dearest best fit" for the task of leadership in such a work, the chief executive wrote practically as follows:

"The United States enjoyed the spiritual leadership of the world until the coming of the United States to the ratify the treaty by which the belligerent nations sought to effect the settlements for which they had fought throughout the war."

STATE OF WISCONSIN, Wood County Court, In Probate.
On reading and filing the application of Minnie Timm executrix of the will of John G. Timm deceased, representing among other things that she has fully administered the said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing her account of her administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by law entitled to the same.

IT IS ORDERED, that said application be heard before this Court, at a Special Term thereof, to be held at the Probate office, in the City of Grand Rapids, on the 17th day of February, 1920, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that notice of the time and place of examination and allowing said account, and of assigning the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested, by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said County, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 13th day of January, 1920.

SENECA ROAD.

The stockholders of the Seneca Corners cheese factory held their annual business meeting last Wednesday. Charles Kierow, A. Schroeder, Wm. Ehler, J. B. Ostermeyer and W. Bottensack were elected as directors. J. B. Ostermeyer was appointed president, Wm. Ehler, secretary, and W. Bottensack, treasurer. The question of buying a whey separator was under discussion and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter. A report at a future meeting. The financial report for the year made a satisfactory showing. The factory has handled a million and a half pounds of milk during 1919.

P. Condo bought last week the span of black colts recently owned by J. Miller. Bronson has gone to Benton, Wis., to work at the mine for a few weeks.

The S. S. C. held the regular meeting with Mrs. Morrill last Thursday. An interesting program under the direction of the Misses Morrill and Wagner was presented. The first part consisted of a number of poems written by soldier boys; the second part was a play entitled "Footprints," the parts of which were admirably sustained by Miss Morrill as Mother Rigby, with Miss Wagner as Featherfoot, the scarecrow, and Master Orville Larry as Dickon, the parrot. The next interesting part was a play entitled "Footprints," the parts of which were admirably sustained by Miss Morrill as Mother Rigby, with Miss Wagner as Featherfoot, the scarecrow, and Master Orville Larry as Dickon, the parrot. Word received from Wendell Ostermeyer and Clarence Wagner, who went to Janesville last week, is to the effect that they are nicely located and have good jobs.

The mumps! the mumps are everywhere. There's scarce a family free; And among the latest victims Are Edward and Mario.

SHERRY

A. Wiken was in Marshfield on business Jan. 19.

Mrs. Gustave Manthel had the misfortune to trip and fall down stairs recently. She was not seriously hurt, although one arm and one limb suffered some bruises.

Romanzo Parks was in Arpin last week. While there he brought the mail for his road. Owing to the bad weather the mail man could not get thru.

Measures Harry and Tom Davis returned from their business trip Sunday morning, Jan. 18. They also brought with them their cousin, Miss Griffith, who will spend a few days visiting with them.

Frank Drollinger returned to his home Wednesday, from Milwaukee where he had been carpentering during the past few months.

One day last week our mail carrier, John Jones, while on his way to Sherry station had the misfortune to tip over. The accident occurred while turning out for another rig. Nobody hurt.

While cutting wood last week Jas. Lobner was struck in the face with a large piece of wood and his nose smashed. The doctor was called and he is feeling much better at present.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lobner were visited by the stork, who left them a baby girl Jan. 19.

The dance which was held at Lobner's last Monday evening was enjoyed by all. Due to the bad weather there was only a small number present. The music was furnished by the Pankratz orchestra.

The sister of Mr. Brinkman, our cheese maker, is here from Minnesota visiting him.

Mrs. Romanzo Parks was called to Dodgeville last Tuesday by the serious illness of her father. Due to the poor train service he had passed away before she reached there. He has been sick for the past two years. The sympathy of the community is extended to her.

Herman Jantz has installed a new telephone in his home.

Jake Drollinger is suffering at present with a sore eye.

Walter Holman, who is employed on the Parish farm, is quite sick with the flu. This is the first case we have had this year, and we feel very thankful.

The town boys have organized a basketball team and expect to play some games soon. The players are Leo Drollinger, Eddie LeRoux, John Thomas, Elmer Whitney and Mr. Mr. Fewings.

Little Dorothy LeRoux has been sick, but we are glad to report is better at this writing.

Mrs. Mary Davis entertained a number of friends at her home last Friday evening, it being her birthday.

The Misses Florence Lowe and Alice Kennedy left Wednesday to spend a few days at Milwaukee.

Miss Agnes O'Brien was a Stratford visitor last week.

Miss Agnes Grube of Stevens Point is spending a few days with her parents here.

CLARK EXPLAINS NEED OF BUYING HOME GROWN SEED

You have probably heard the story of the man who sold his potatoes in the fall and lost his glasses. In the spring he put in an order for a bushel of very fancy potatoes at $5 per, from one of our much advertised seed houses. When he poured the potatoes out of the sack he found his glasses in it. He had lost the previous fall. The moral is "Patronize home industry."

The following is received from the state department. I believe it is worth considering.

"Red clover seed with 5,086 noxious and 38,360 other weed seeds to the pound was offered and sold to Wisconsin farmers according to the Seed Inspection Division of the state department of agriculture. The seed inspector has collected and analyzed several samples taken from lots of seed shipped to Wisconsin by the American Mutual Seed Co. of Chicago. In addition to the weed seeds mentioned which constituted 8.8 per cent by weight of the total bulk of seed there were 8.2 per cent of poor grade clover screenings, 3.3 per cent of inert matter and 5.5 per cent of other crop seeds. In other words only 73.2 per cent or 44 pounds of each bushel was the red clover seed for which the farmer paid."

"Similar lots are being shipped to Wisconsin farmers by the A. A. Berry Seed Co., Clarinda, Iowa. One sample of red clover seed contained 600 wild mustard, 600 Canada thistle, 900 field dodder and 3600 buckhorn, or a total of 6700 noxious weed seeds to each pound of clover seed. A sample of mixed alfalfa and timothy contained 907 mustard, 590 buckhorn and 130 Canada thistle seeds to each pound of the mixture."

"The red clover seed sold by the American Mutual under the name 'Economy' brand has been offered at $20.70 a bushel when their highest grade or 'Pinnacle' brand was offered at $26.80. The Pinnacle seed is good seed, but is fully as high priced as that being sold by other dealers, hence, if good seed is desired it will cost just as much coming from the American Mutual as from any other seed house in the country."

"The analysis of 'Economy' brand seed showed it to be only 73.2 per cent pure fair grade clover seed, or 44 pounds of clover seed to each 60 pounds sold. Forty-four pounds at $20.70 makes the clover seed cost 47 cents a pound. Using such seed would give only 73.2 per cent of a bushel of clover. Using 10 pounds of the seed to an acre it would deposit 60,680 noxious weed seeds to an acre the plants resulting from which it would take years of labor to eradicate."

"The Pinnacle brand at $26.80 would cost 47 cents a pound. Which is the cheaper in the end? Using the Economy brand we get 44 pounds of red clover seed at 47 cents a pound, with 3.8 pounds of other crop seeds, 5.28 per cent of weed seeds, 4.92 pounds of light clover seed and 2.3 pounds of dirt, chaff, etc., thrown in to make the 60 pound bushel, and giving a stand of 73.2 per cent of clover. In the Pinnacle brand the clover seed costs 47 cents a pound, but practically the whole 60 pounds is high grade clover seed from which 96 or 97 per cent stand may be expected."

"The companies selling these seeds have been warned by the State Seed Inspector that shipments of seeds like those described above would not be allowed to reach Wisconsin farmers if it could be prevented. Several farmers have already been kept from using seeds of analysis which showed them to be of such quality that they might better be burned than sown on the farm. Such shipments cannot be stopped by means of any law now on the statute books. Hence, this notice to Wisconsin farmers. Every farmer who has purchased Economy brand seed of red clover, or mixed alfalfa and timothy seed from either of these firms should send a sample to the seed inspector for examination before using it. These firms guarantee to take back all seed which proves unsatisfactory and to refund the money. So there is no excuse for using red clover or mixed seed purchased from them the use of which is a menace to profitable farming."

W. W. CLARK,
County Agent.

DIG CUCUMBER BUSINESS DONE IN BADGER STATE

"Grown in Wisconsin" is a label that one-fifth of the cucumber pickles in the United States ought to carry, judging from the figures for the 1919 crop published by the bureau of crop estimates. Wisconsin grew 1,604 acres of cucumbers in 1919, so 78 of the 88 factories operating in the state reported. The yield averaged 63 bushels to the acre. The total estimated production was 470,052 bushels, 22 per cent of the total production of the United States, 2,182,062 bushels.

Although in 1918 the number of factories operating in Wisconsin was less, the total acreage contracted for was larger, 10,799 acres, and the average yield was 100 bushels. The production all over the country was higher that year, and Wisconsin contributed only 16 per cent of the total supply.

Poor milkers are not accidents—they are equally backward because there is something wrong with their physical condition. You cannot expect such a cow to give a good milk yield until her digestive organs have received proper medical treatment.

Kow-Kure has become the standard remedy in thousands of dairies and this famous cow medicine has great medicinal qualities that work upon and tone up the digestive and genital organs, making each perform its proper function. You can prove for yourself the merit of Kow-Kure by trying a package on one of your poor milkers, and watch results carefully. Besides being a general tonic, Kow-Kure is especially recommended for the prevention or cure of such diseases as Abortion, Barrenness, Milk Fever, Scouring, Lost Appetite, Bunches, etc.

Spring deliveries of Ford cars have never been certain, and they should not be depended upon. Demand has always been greater for Ford cars than the supply or production. So, if you would be sure of having a Ford car buy now while deliveries are possible. Don't wait—even next month is an uncertainty.

Only a limited, specified number of cars has been allotted to this territory. That allotment cannot be increased, because the demand all over the country is greater than the supply or production. Get your order now, and you will be one of those who are sure of a Ford car out of our allotment.

It's first come—first served. All orders are filled in rotation. So, if you would be forehanded, if you would be certain of having a Ford car when you want it—then you will buy a Ford now. A signed order with us is your protection. It is the result of the wisdom of looking ahead.

LOCAL ASS'N. JOINS NATIONAL CHAMBER

Pres. C. A. Normington has received word that the Chamber of Commerce of this city has been elected to membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. In joining the National Association the Chamber of Commerce adds its strength to the great national organization and gives its members an opportunity to register their views with the central body in consideration of national questions that affect business.

The local Chamber of Commerce will appoint a National Councilor immediately who will represent the Grand Rapids Chamber at the National meetings. The National Councilor serves as a connecting link between the National Association and the local Chamber.

The National Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1912 for the purpose of bringing together all the national business interests. The body now represents more than 1,100 different organizations in every state in the union and abroad. One of the chief aims of the National Association is to obtain the best business thought on national questions that concern business. This is done through a system of referendum on which more than half a million members of different organizations vote. The opinion of business, gained in this way, is presented to the public and to Congress.

The membership permits the use of the facilities of the Chamber of Commerce National office at Washington where information relative to any business is available.

SWEET BILL INCREASES INSURANCE BENEFIT AID

Con. E. E. Browne has sent the Tribune the following notice of the increased benefits on insurance under the Sweet bill, which has been passed by Congress. In his letter Mr. Browne says:

"The Sweet bill practically makes the original War Risk Insurance Act effective on April 6th, 1917, instead of October 6th, 1917, the date of its enactment.

"During this period many deaths occurred in the Naval and Military forces and thousands were discharged from the service on account of disability.

"The enlargement of the permitted class of insurance beneficiaries, includes fathers, parents, uncles, aunts, sisters, nephews, brothers-in-law, nieces-in-law, and persons standing in loco parentis.

"The amendment changes the monthly compensation payable for disability from $30 per month for total disability of a temporary nature and to $100 per month for total disability of a permanent nature. Under the old act if a claimant had a medical rating of 10 percent he was only entitled to $3 per month, while under the same rating he will now receive $8 per month.

"I will be very glad to give information or render any assistance to the soldiers, sailors and marines on their beneficiaries, who are entitled to benefits under the War Risk Insurance Act.

Edward E. Browne,
Member of Congress.

WESTFIELD COUPLE WED IN AIRPLANE AT MIAMI, FLA.

Miss Charlotte Hamilton and R. G. Conant, Westfield, Waukegan county, young people, were married in an airplane at Miami, Fla., last week. An account of the wedding, as told by a Miami paper follows:

"A great crowd packed Elser's pier yesterday afternoon to witness the most novel wedding ceremony ever performed in Miami, when Miss Charlotte Hamilton became the bride of R. G. Conant while flying 2,500 feet above the Biscayne Bay in one of Aero Limited, Inc. naval bombing planes. Spectators were packed on the main pier, on the balcony, and every available space while others were out in rowboats and launches to watch the proceedings.

"Promptly at three o'clock the wedding party stepped into the launch which takes aerial passengers to the plane in the bay. In the party were the bride and groom, the bridesmaid, Mrs. E. A. Brodtkorb of North Dakota, the best man, C. Nicholas Reinhardt of New York, and the Rev. Robert Newton Ward of Miami, who performed the ceremony.

"The party was transferred to the plane quickly and then started off for the wedding in the air. The ceremony was performed while the plane was flying around the bay, piloted by Fritz Biotner. It was piloted by another smaller plane of the Aero Limited fleet with an operator taking motion pictures of the ceremony and before this a great number of the spectators on the pier had snapped pictures of the air bride and groom.

"The officiating clergyman had served as an American chaplain in France during the war. To make the wedding ceremony secure he went through it twice, once when the motor was running at high speed and again when it was shut off, so all could hear perfectly, and the certificate was also signed in the air.

"After the ceremony had been finished, the plane soared over to the beach where a wedding tea was served, at the Breakers Inn. There were fifteen in the breakfast party. Elaborate floral designs and an orchestra were distinguishing features of the event."

J. C. KIEFFER & SONS OWN VALUABLE HOLSTEIN BULL

The Marshfield Herald tells the following of a bull recently purchased by J. C. Kieffer and Sons of Auburndale, which indicates that they have made a valuable addition to their herd:

"J. C. Kieffer & Sons of Auburndale, are owners of a Holstein bull that has a splendid breeding record and will no doubt be of great value when fully developed. A part of his history is contained in the following lines:

John Erickson of Waupaca, a Holstein breeder, recently sold his senior herd sire, Sir Pieterge Ormsby M'Preedes 37th for $100,000. Mr. Erickson has one of the best herds of Holsteins in the state, if not the United States, being especially noted for its size, type and production. The dam of his senior herd sire is a wonderful individual, weighing 2,250 pounds, being the largest cow in the world. She has three yearly records of over 1,000 pounds of butter per year—one year being over the 1300 mark. She was sold recently for $5,000 at the Grand Rapids sale of 1919. Kieffer & Sons own a sire by this great bull, Sir Forbes Ormsby Pieterge No. 248-344, out of the best yearly record family in the Erickson herd. The Kieffer bull's three quarter sister is considered by Mr. Moyer of New York, who conducts and selects all cattle for the great National Holstein sales, to be the greatest two year old in America. She holds the state record for butter production in the same division.

"Mr. Erickson is holding a three-quarter brother to the Kieffer bull for his junior herd sire for which he recently refused a large sum of money. He says the bull he sold Kieffer & Sons is the most valuable of any that ever left his farm."

PLAN UNDERGROUND BARN

The Chamber of Commerce of Wausau and the city are planning the building of a concrete underground barn a full block in length to care for the teams of farmers coming to that city. The barn will be under the market square and its use will be used as a floor for market stalls where vegetables and all kinds of farm produce will be sold in season.

DIED AT POOR FARM

John Quajara, aged 90 years, died at the Poor Farm Sunday of this week, death being due to old age. Mr. Quajara was committed to the County Institution from this city in 1908, having made his home there since that time. He was one of the old residents of this section

OFFER JOHN JUNG CHANCE TO GET SPANISH FORTUNE

While John Jung has been pretty well known around Grand Rapids and Wood county for a number of years past, he was not aware until Monday of this week that his reputation had extended beyond the borders of Wisconsin and even those of the United States. The fact that he has evidently become widely known in Spain came into evidence Monday morning when the mail brought him a letter from some one in Madrid; not a personal acquaintance, but one who knew him by reputation, asking him to share a Spanish fortune with one Spaniard, Lucas Callego. The proposition is a simple one: all John has to do is to advance the necessary funds to get the $300,000 securities and in return he is to take $100,000.

The letter which came to Mr. Jung had aroused the suspicions of the postal authorities, who had marked it to be opened at the postoffice, as it was supposed to contain matter of an intent to defraud thru the mails. When Mr. Jung opened the letter he found that one Lucas Callego had heard about his being a well known painter in Grand Rapids, and wanted to know if he wanted to get in on the $300,000. The plan is that John pay the cost of a lawsuit to recover $300,000 in French bonds which Lucas says rightfully belong to him. However, Lucas is in jail just now and it will be necessary for John to take a hand in the matter of putting it across. The latter tells John not to write but to wire if he can't come to the polls. After thinking the matter over carefully Mr. Jung came to the conclusion that it would be considerable trouble for him to go into the matter, the amount involved being so high and he would be worth the trouble necessary to secure it, so he has decided not to take up the proposition.

Luke had evidently heard about F. E. Kellner of this city and Wm. Waldo, as he also wrote them, making the same proposition, but it is not probably that any of the local residents will go after the money.

BOARD OF HEALTH WARNS AGAINST "FLU" EPIDEMIC

Following a careful survey of the influenza situation in the state during the past week, the state board of health has issued a statement advising the tightest possible precautions to prevent a recurrence of last year's epidemic. Except in Milwaukee, where a few cases have been reported, the state appears as yet to be quite free from the disease. There are evidences, the board declares, of an increased number of cases of so-called grip that do not, however, partake of the character of influenza, and the question arises whether these might not be forerunners of the recurrence of the "flu."

"The indications to date show," says the board, "that influenza is not associated in any considerable degree at least with the type and character of illnesses concerning this does not mean there are not a few cases of 'flu' in certain sections of the state. Milwaukee reports a number of cases, and the health authorities there are watching the situation very closely. There is an apparent epidemic of 'flu' at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, and Chicago reports the prevalence of this malady there to a considerable extent, with some fatalities.

"This being the fact, it behooves health authorities in the state of Wisconsin and the medical profession to exercise due care in their endeavor to determine whether or not influenza is actually present in their locality, and this board also strongly urges that citizens of the state use all precautions not to expose themselves unnecessarily to so-called grip or other maladies spreading colds, and demands that all individuals ill with the grip take special precautions to remain at home, and preferably in bed, until all acute symptoms have subsided and danger past.

"All cases of illness of this character must be placarded, whether it be grip or influenza, and the cases reported to the local health officer within 24 hours. There are no indications at present that public gatherings should be prohibited, but the influenza of last year should emphasize to all authorities having control of public gatherings that all persons afflicted with severe colds or coughs must be excluded from such gatherings, and that every effort be made to create an unusual alarm but does desire to emphasize the fact that we are close to a dangerous condition and that every precaution should be put into effect to avoid the necessity for more stringent regulations."

SIXTY-SIX HEAD OF GUERNSEYS COMING

Returning from their cattle buying trip to New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, W. W. Clark, County Agent, and Albert Paulson, both well known county Guernsey breeders, have purchased sixty-six head of pure bred Guernsey cattle which will be distributed among the herds in Wood county. The cattle are being shipped here and are expected to arrive about the first of February, Mr. Clark says.

Among those who will get the animals when they arrive are Charles Tomfohrde, Arpin; A. P. Bean, Vesper; Albert Paulson, Marshfield; L. E. Baughman, Grand Rapids; R. Wm. Hoppe, Marshfield; J. F. Hills, Vesper; Wm. Ehrlert, Vesper; Frank Ladick, Grand Rapids R. 5; Ed. Kronholm, Grand Rapids, R. 5; Leo Hanlin, R. 5; Charles Ewer, Marshfield; Cecil E. Spear, Vesper; and W. R. Blakesdale, Marshfield. A number of others have expressed their desire of getting an animal out of this shipment and may be fortunate enough to do so.

While in the east Messrs. Clark and Paulson were representing the Wood County Guernsey Breeders Ass'n., who are working in co-operation with the Wood County Bankers Ass'n. in getting more purebred cattle into Wood county.

Thirty-seven of the animals purchased in the east were females, the average cost of these being $246 per head. The price ranged from $50 to $850. The bunch of females includes some very choice individuals from such record dams and sires. Twenty-one of them come from the Anna Dean Farm, Barberton, Ohio, the home of the former World champion of all breeds, Murne Cowan. Many of these animals are closely related to Murne Cowan with a record of 1098 lb. of fat, and Spotswood Daisy Pearl with a record of 957 lb. of fat. They have six females in the lot that are grand daughters of Itchen Daisy Pearl, Spotswood water who sold last month for $20,000.

While in the east they also purchased from the Anna Dean Farm a carload of pure bred bulls, ranging in age from eight months to two years. They have several bulls in this lot whose dams have records of over 600 lbs. of fat. One of the animals is sired by a son of Spotswood Daisy Pearl with a record of 937 lb. of fat, and is out of imported Nellie of Anna Dean Farm, 635 lb. of fat as a two year old and a daughter of Masher's Sequal with over forty A. R. sisters. They have several grand sons of Murne Cowan, Spotswood Daisy Pearl and Johanna Chene.

While in the east Messrs. Clark and Paulson looked over the Holstein market. Mr. Clark states that there are plenty of good animals of this breed available and that the price is pretty reasonable. It is the plan of several of the Central Wisconsin breeders associations to make crusades into the east to get the choice of some of the best animals out there.

REV. REINKE WILL MAKE RURAL CHURCH SURVEY

To ascertain, humanly and statistically, how efficient or inefficient the rural church in America is today and what readjustments can be made, specifically in Wisconsin, machinery has been set up by the survey department of the Interchurch World Movement with headquarters in New York to make a study of this field, stressing this country.

In charge of this work in Wisconsin will be A. W. Blakeman and F. E. Wagg, Survey Leader, with headquarters in Madison. In charge of the work in Wood County will be Rev. Theodore Reinke, with an office in Grand Rapids. Co-operating with these men will be representatives of the denominations affiliated in the ranks of the Interchurch Movement.

This survey is one of 2968 which are being set up in rural centers all over the United States and the data from these points, when assembled, will be the last word on the country church and its relation to the life in that particular community. All the data will be assembled in New York and later conferences will be held in the country survey centers to recommend action on the part of the local ministers and the church authorities with a view to improving conditions in their area and to solving the community ills that have been found to come from over-churching and under-churching.

Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, is the chairman of the general committee of the Interchurch World Movement, in which the following denominations are co-operating, no denomination in the least losing its autonomy or independence:

Presbyterian Church in the United States of America (Northern); Presbyterian Church of the United States (Southern); Methodist Episcopal Church (South); Congregational Church; Disciples of Christ; Northern Baptist; Seventh Day Baptists; Reformed Church in America; United Presbyterian Church; United Brethren; American Christian Convention; The Society of Friends; Moravian Church and United Evangelical Church. In addition to these denominations, still others are related to the movement in various ways and are drawing their work closer to the Movement as their official boards take action, while over 70 denominational and interdenominational boards have endorsed the Movement. The various denominations and boards associated with the Interchurch World Movement represent approximately 200,000 churches with a membership of 25,000,000 persons.

COME with us for a ten days' trip to the Magic Valley.

SEE with your own eyes and learn from the farmers themselves of the remarkable opportunities offered.

EFFICIENT IRRIGATION. Rain when you want it and as much as you want the entire year round.

SOIL, finer than you have ever seen. A pure silt loam deposit of the Rio Grande River.

CLIMATE, the most even the year round of any place in the United States. Summer weather is not hot in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. (Refer to Weather Bureau statistics.)

LABOR conditions not equalled anywhere.

Civic progression, social and religious conditions equal to or better than our best Northern communities.

Every Day a PLANTING GROWING
HARVESTING
MARKETING DAY

Cabbage is now marketing in the valley for $85.00 per ton. We are averaging ten to fifteen tons per acre. Figure it out.

Our Bermuda onions, egg plant, peppers, tomatoes, carrots, etc., are unexcelled.

Our corn is No. 1 and is marketed in July and August when the price is highest.

Our broom corn, sorghum, sugar cane, alfalfa, Rhodes grass, etc., yield excellent returns.

Cattle and hogs thrive wonderfully well in the valley. We pasture from three to five grown head of stock to the acre on green pasture the year round.

The Citrus fruit (grape fruit, oranges, lemons, tangarones, limes, etc.) produced in the Valley are superior in every way to California or Florida fruit.

Our excursions leave every week and cover a period of ten days. Our rates are reasonable.

We will give you courteous, kind attention, guarantee you a pleasant trip and bring you home glad you came with us.

You place yourself under no obligation to buy or anything else if our proposition is not exactly as represented.

We are the largest land selling organization in the United States and our methods are square, truthful and pleasant.

LOCAL ASS'N. JOINS
NATIONAL CHAMBERPres. C. A. Normington has received word that the Chamber of Commerce of this city has been elected to membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.
In joining the National Association the Chamber of Commerce adds its strength to the great national organization and gives its members an opportunity to register their views on the central body in consideration of national questions that affect business.The local Chamber of Commerce will appoint a National Councillor immediately who will represent the Grand Rapids Chamber at the National meetings. The National Councillor serves as a connecting link between the National association and the local Chamber.The National Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1912 for the purpose of bringing together all national business interests. The body now represents more than 1,100 different organizations in every state in the union and abroad. One of the chief aims of the National Association is to obtain the best business thought on national questions that concern business. This is done through a system of reference to more than half a million members of different organizations vote. The opinion of business, gained in this way, is presented to the public and to Congress.The membership permits the use of the facilities of the Chamber of Commerce National offices at Washington where information relative to any business is available.SWEET BILL INCREASES INSURANCE BENEFITCon. E. E. Browne has sent the Tribune the following notice of the increased benefits on insurance under the Sweet bill, which has been passed by Congress. In his letter
Mr. Browne says:"The Sweet bill practically makes the original War Risk Insurance Act effective on April 6th, 1917, instead of October 6th, 1917, the date of its enactment.""During this period many deaths occurred in the Naval and Military forces and thousands were disabled from the service on account of disability.""The enlargement of the permitted class of insurance beneficiaries includes foster parents, uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews, brothers-in-law, sisters-in-law, and persons standing in loco parentis.""The amendment changes the monthly compensation payable for disability. The amount has been changed from $30 per month for disability to $50 per month for total disability of a temporary nature and to $100 per month for total disability of a permanent nature. Under the old act if a claimant had a medical rating of 10 percent he was only entitled to $3 per month, while under the same rating he will now receive $8 per month.""I will be very glad to give information by sending any assistance to the soldiers, sailors and marines on their beneficiaries, who are entitled to benefits under the War Risk Insurance act."Edward E. Brown, Member of Congress.WESTFIELD COUPLE WED IN AIRPLANE AT MIAMI, FLA.Miss Charlotte Hamilton and R.
G. Conant, Westfield, Waushara county, young people, were married in an airplane at Miami, Fla., last week. An account of the wedding, as told by a Miami paper follows:"A great crowd packed Elson's pier yesterday afternoon to witness the most novel wedding ceremony ever performed in Miami, when Miss Charlotte Hamilton became the bride of R. G. Conant while flying 1200 feet above the Biscayne Bay in one of Aero Limited, Inc. naval bombing planes. Spectators were packed on the main pier, on the balcony, and every available space
while others were out in rowboats and launches to watch the proceedings.""Promptly at three o'clock the wedding party stepped into the launch which takes aerial passengers to the planes lying in the bay. In the party were the bride and groom,
the bridesmaid, Mrs. E. A. Brod-horst of North Dakota, the best man, C. Nicholas Hobart of New York, and the Rev. Robert Newton Ward of Miami, who performed the ceremony.""The party was transferred to the plane quickly and then started off for the wedding in the air. The ceremony was performed aloft when the plane soared around the bay, piloted by Fritz Dlotner. It was pursued by another smaller plane of the Aero Limited fleet with an operator taking motion pictures of the ceremony aloft. Before this a great number of the spectators on the pier had snapped pictures of the air bride and groom.""The officiating clergyman had served as an American chaplain in France during the war. To make the wedding ceremony secure he went through it twice, once when the motor was running at high speed and again when it was shut off, so all could hear perfectly, and the certificate was also signed in the air.""After the ceremony had been finished, the plane soared over to the beach where a wedding tea was served at the Breakers Inn. There were fifteen in the breakfast party, elaborate floral designs and an orchestra were distinguishing features of the event."

PLAN UNDERGROUND BARN

The Chamber of Commerce of Wausau and the city are planning the building of a concrete underground barn a full block in length to care for the teams of farmers coming to that city. The barn will be under the market square and its covering will be used as a floor for market stalls where vegetables and all kinds of farm produce will be sold in season.

DIED AT POOR FARM

John Quajara, aged 90 years, died at the Poor Farm Sunday of this week, death being due to old age. Mr. Quajara was committed to the County Institution from this city in 1908, having made his home there since that time. He was one of the old residents of this sectionOFFER JOHN JUNG CHANCE TO GET SPANISH FORTUNEWhile John Jung has been pretty well known around Grand Rapids and Wood county for a number of years past, he was not aware until Monday of this week that his reputation had extended beyond the borders of Wisconsin and even those of the United States. The fact that he has evidently become widely known in Spain came into evidence Monday morning when the mail brought him
a letter from some one in Madrid, not a personal acquaintance, but one who knew him by reputation, asking him to share a Spanish fortune with one Spaniard Lucas Gallego. The proposition is a simple one: all John has to do is to advance the necessary funds to get the $200,000 securities and in return he is to take $100,000.The letter which came to Mr. Jung had aroused the suspicions of the postal authorities, who had marked it to be opened at the postoffice, as it was supposed to contain matter of an intent to defraud thru the mails.
When Mr. Jung opened the letter he found that one Lucas Gallego had heard about his being a well known painter in Grand Rapids, and wanted to know if he wanted to get in on the $300,000. The plan is that John pay the cost of a lawsuit to recover $300,000 in French bonds which Lucas has been rightfully belong to him.
However, Lucas is in jail just now and it will be necessary for John to take a hand in the matter of putting it across. The latter tells John not to write but to wire if he cares to share in the spoils. After thinking the matter over carefully Mr. Jung came to the conclusion that it would be considerable trouble for him to go into the matter, the amount involved being so small as to hardly be worth the trouble necessary to secure it, so he has decided not to take up the proposition.Lucas had evidently heard about
F. B. Kellner of this city and Wm.
Waldo, as he also wrote them, making them the same proposition, but it is not probably that any of the local residents will go after the money.BOARD OF HEALTH WARNS AGAINST "FLU" EPIDEMICFollowing a careful survey of the influenza situation in the state during the past week, the state board of health has issued a statement advising the tightening of precautions to prevent a recurrence of last year's epidemic. Except in Milwaukee, where a few cases have been reported, the state appears as yet to be quite free from the disease.
There are evidences, the board declares, of an increased number of cases of so-called grip that do not, however, partake of the character of influenza, and the question arises whether this might not be a forerunner of the recurrence of the "flu.""The indications to date show," says the board, "that influenza is not associated in any considerable degree at least with the type and character of illnesses concerning which the state health board has not few cases of 'flu' in certain sections of the state. Milwaukee reports a number of cases, and the health authorities there are watching the situation very closely. There is an apparent epidemic of 'flu' at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, and Chicago reports the presence of this malady there to a considerable extent, with some fatalities.""This being the fact, it behooves health authorities in the state of Wisconsin and the medical profession to exercise due care in their endeavor to determine whether or not influenza is actually present in any locality, and this board also strongly urges that citizens of the state use all precautions not to expose themselves unnecessarily to so-called grip or other maladies simultaneous colds, and demands that all individuals afflicted with the grip take special precautions to remain at home, and preferably in bed, until all acute symptoms have subsided and danger past.""All cases of illness of this character must be placarded, whether it be grip or influenza, and the cases reported to the local health officer within 24 hours. There are no indications at present, that public gatherings should be prohibited, but the influenza of last year should emphasize to all authorities having control of public gatherings that all persons afflicted with severe colds or coughs must be excluded.""This board does not desire to create any unusual alarm but does desire to emphasize the fact that we are close to a dangerous condition and that every precaution should be put into effect to avoid the necessity for more stringent regulations."J. C. KIEFFER & SONS OWN VALUABLE HOLSTEIN BULLThe Marshfield Herald tells the following of a bull recently purchased by J. C. Kieffer and Sons of Auburndale, which indicates that they have made a valuable addition to their herd:"J. C. Kieffer & Sons of Auburn-dale, are owners of a Holstein bull that has a splendid breeding record and will no doubt be of great value when fully developed. A part of his history is contained in the following lines:John Erickson of Waupaca, a Holstein breeder, recently sold his son-in-law, St. Peter, a great Ormsby Myrodes 37th for $100,000. Mr.
Erickson has one of the best herds of Holsteins in the state, if not the United States, being especially noted for its size, type and production.The dam of his senior herd sire is a wonderful individual, weighing thirty pounds, being the greatest two year old in America. She holds the state record for butter production in the same division.
"Mr. Erickson is holding a three-quarter brother to the Kieffer bull for his junior herd sire for which he recently refused a large sum of money. He says the bull he sold Kieffer & Sons is the most valuable of any that ever left his farm."—If you want "real Johnny cake" or corn bread get "Red Oak" gran-SIXTY-SIX HEAD OF GUERNSEYS COMINGReturning from their cattle buying trip to New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, W. W. Clark, County Agent, and Albert Paulson, both well known county Guernsey breeders, have purchased sixty-six head of pure bred Guernsey cattle which will be distributed among the herds in Wood county. The cattle are being shipped here and are expected to arrive about the first of February,
Mr. Clark says.Among those who will get the animals when they arrive are Charles Tomfohrde, Arpin; A. P. Bean,
Vesper; Albert Paulson, Marshfield;
L. E. Baughman, Grand Rapids, R.
2; Wm. Hopp, Marshfield; J. F.
Hills, Vesper; Wm. Ehler, Vesper;
Frank Ladick, Grand Rapids, R. 6;
Ed. Kronholm, Grand Rapids, R. 6;
Leo Hanlin, R. 6; Charles Ewer, Marshfield; Cecil E. Speer, Vesper; and W. R. Blockadige, Marshfield.A number of others have expressed their desire of getting an animal out of this shipment and may be fortunate enough to do so.While in the east Messrs. Clark and Paulson were representing the Wood County Guernsey Breeders
Assoc., who are working in co-operation with the Wood County Breeders Assoc. in getting more purebred cattle into Wood county.
Thirty-seven of the animals purchased in the east were females, the average cost of these being $240 per head. The price ranged from $50 to $550. The bunch of females includes some very choice individuals from high record dams and sires.
Twenty-one of them come from the Anna Dean Farm, Barborton, Ohio,
the home of the former World champion of all breeds, Murne Cowan.
Many of these animals are closely related to Murne Cowan with a record of 1003 lb. of fat, and Spelswood Daisy Pearl with a record of 957 lb. of fat. They have six females in the lot that are grand daughters of Ichnon Daisy May King of Lang-water who sold last month for $20-000.While in the east they also purchased from the Anna Dean Farm a carload of pure bred bulls, ranging in age from eight months to two years. They have several bulls in this lot whose dams have records of over 600 lbs. of fat. One of the animals is sired by a son of Spelswood Daisy Pearl with a record of 957 lb.
of fat, and is out of imported Nellie of Anna Dean Farm, 635 lb. of fat as a two year old and a daughter of Masher's Sequel with over forty A.
R. sisters. They have several grand sons of Murne Cowan, Spelswood Daisy Pearl and Johanna Chene.While in the east Messrs. Clark and Paulson looked over the Holstein market. Mr. Clark states that there are plenty of good animals of this breed available and that the price is pretty reasonable. It is the price of several of the Central Wisconsin breeders associations to make cruciates into the east to get the choice of some of the best animals out there.REV. REINKE WILL MAKE are being set up in rural centers all over the United States and the data from these points, when as-

and the church authorities with a view to improving conditions in their area and to solving the community ills that have been found to come from over-churching and under-churching.Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, is the chairman of the general committee of the Interchurch World Movement, in which the following denominations now are cooperating, no denomination in the others are related to the movement various ways and are drawing their work closer to the movement

as their official boards take action, while over 70 denomination and interdenominational boards have endorsed the movement. The various denominations and boards associated with the Interchurch World Movement represent approximately 200,000 churches with mem-

SALESMAN ENJOYS 'FABRE' BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The following review is written by a traveling salesman who was favorably impressed by some of the books at the T. B. Scott Public Library. He says:

We can not read all of the good books, but time would not permit it. We had nothing else to do, so the problem is to spend the time we have to spare, reading the best books procurable.

Some of us read for instruction only, no book being dry or dull, however filled with technical details, provided it treats of subjects in which we are interested; others read exclusively for pleasure or to pass the time agreeably, and will not be bothered with the necessity of concentration; the great majority of readers, however, are happy with any book from which they derive not only instruction which at the same time does not tire, but leaves only pleasant impressions on the mind. The facts of science remembered because of the beautiful literary style in which they are presented.

Such books are rare, but when found, to the pleasure of reading them is that of the book to them the attention of our friends.

Now when we hear of a book about insects, for instance, we are straightway reminded of rows of bugs arranged on cards, each with a pin stuck through its body, with almost unpronounceable names under each, the name of the naturalist who first classified it, perhaps names of localities where the insect may be found, some measurements in the Metric system, in fact nothing that will attract the interest of the average reader; so the books stand up on the shelves of our libraries and are not read.

The immortal biographies of men, are those that reveal their intimate and personal qualities, their thoughts, character, conversations, their social and family life as well as the great deeds.

So must the biography of the insect, if it is to interest us, inform us of each detail of its life, how it comes into being, how it secures its food, builds its house, its courtship, the intricacies of its instinct, shown in many species, in providing for its young which in many cases the parents never see.

All of these things in thousands of marvelous instances, described from actual observations, extending over a period of nearly seventy years, are now available to us in the works of the great French naturalist J. H. Fabre, called the 'Fables of the Insects,' the self-educated teacher, who mastered several of the sciences in his youth while he taught them. Keeping just one lesson ahead of his pupils, the whole range of the natural sciences were perfectly familiar to him.

Fabre's great life work, however, carried on through poverty, and under distressing handicaps, that would have discouraged any but the most exalted genius, was the study of entomology, and he writes to us of his "beloved insects" in language so marvelously beautiful, clear and easily understood, as to be perfectly fascinating and quite impossible to describe.

He shows us that nearly all insects prey on one another, each having its particular enemy, which reminds me of a few lines I read somewhere, the author of which I have forgotten:

Giant fleas have lesser fleas,
Upon their backs to bite 'em;
The lesser fleas, still lesser fleas,
And so ad infinitum.

I will briefly detail one instance, for it would require a book to catalog the many observations and experiments this "inimitable observer" as Darwin calls him, has handed on to us.

"The Cerceris wasps, nourish themselves only on the nectar of flowers; but their larvae which they will never behold, must have fresh and succulent flesh still palpitating with life.

"The insect digs a tunnel in the soil, in which she places the eggs and having provisioned the cell with select game—cricket, spider, caterpillar or beetle—she finally closes the entrance, which she never crosses again.

"Like nearly all insects, the young wasp is born in the larval state, and from the moment of its hatching to the end of its growth—that is a period of many days—the grub in the cell can look out for no outside help.

"Here then is a fascinating problem: either the victim depends on the mother after death, and putrefaction attacks them at once, or else they are living, as indeed the larvae require; but then, what will become of the fragile creature, when a mere nothing, a destroyer, shut in the narrow chamber of the burrow among the vigorous beetles, for weeks on end working their long spurred legs; or at grips with a monstrous caterpillar making play with its mandibles and mandibles, rolling and unrolling its tortuous folds?

Such is the thrilling mystery of which Fabre discovered the key.

"With inconceivable ingenuity, the victim is seized and thrown to the ground, and the wasp plunges her sting, not at random into the body, which would involve the risk of death, but at determined points, exactly into the seat of those invulnerable nervous ganglia which govern the various movements of the body of the creature.

"Immediately after these subtle wounds the prey is paralyzed throughout its body; the true corpse is not more motionless.

"But the wound is not mortal; the insect continues to live, the hungry larvae finds its favorite meat and attacks the defenseless prey with an exquisitely delicate art, nibbling the viscera of its victim a little by little, with an infallible method; the less essential parts first, and only in the last instance them which are necessary to life; here then is the incomprehensible spectacle of an animal eaten alive, mouthful by mouthful during periods extending from two weeks to a month, is hollowed out, grows less and less, and finally collapses, retaining to the end its succulence and freshness."

And so the observations of this amazing biologist, the one given being by no means one of the most interesting, extending in to the thousands, and would fill easily an astonishing 'five foot shelf.'

The object here is only to call your attention to the interpretation of nature, carried out in detail by Fabre in the 'Fables of the Insects,' whose books in English translation are to be found in our public libraries, and which are undoubtedly neglected, because so few have heard of them.

The Care of Cut Flowers

When brought into your home shorten the flower stems an inch, using a sharp knife, place the stems as deeply as possible in vases of cold water where the flowers will not be crowded and renew the water at least once daily. Flowers near the withering point through deprivation of water can often be revived by shortening the stems and placing them for a few moments in water as hot as the hand can bear; when revived restore to cold water. Keep both plants and flowers free from drafts. Gals escaping from lighting fixtures, even in an infinitesimal quantity, will wither cut flowers in a few hours.

THE MISERY OF BACKACHE

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Muskegon, Mich.—"For six years I was so weak in my back at times that I could hardly walk. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and it made me good and strong again so that I am able to do all my work. I highly recommend your medicine and tell everyone I meet what it did for me."—Mrs. G. SCHONFELD, 240 Wood Ave., Muskegon, Mich.

Woman's Precious Gift

The one which she should most zealously guard is her health, but she often neglects to do so in season until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to ailing women.

HOME MADE TEA FOR CONSTIPATION Is used by entire families because it is purely vegetable—does the work and costs very little.

Why pay high prices for Liver and Bowel remedies when home made tea is so good? It is purely vegetable, can be brewed at home, and a small package will last a long time.

Thousands of old people will tell you they have been drinking it for years, and after the liver and bowels have been put in fine condition in a few days by a few bottles of this tea, they are able to eat and sleep as comfortably as ever.

People who drink a cup of Dr. Carter's Tea and 3 Teaspoons of white salt, drop, if ever, have any more of those sick headache or yellow skin. It's good for boys and girls, the best of all, and is as healthy as a peach. Druggists have been selling it for many years.

Gowns That Win Favor in Paris

From present indications, writes a leading fashion correspondent, the Parisienne is not going to adopt any of the fantastic features that appeared in earlier models. She is accepting, however, in a very marked way, certain of the models which have distinct new features without any unbecoming or bizarre silhouette.

The Parisienne is too fond of her own personal appearance to go in for anything that is grotesque. She has worn too many good clothes and has too much personal taste and refinement in dress to go contrary to principles. Thus we find that out of the earlier showings, which carried all kinds of extraordinary hip extensions and queer girdlings, loops and draperies, the chic Parisienne has chosen straight lines, simple waistline bellows, soft collars and the natural silhouette.

This will come as no surprise to those who are close students of fashion in women's dress. Only the extremists were enthusiastic about the marked hip extensions and the complicated draperies.

Czecho-Slavic Idea Proves Success. As proposed, the Lanvin models in the Czecho-Slavic feeling have proved a success. While these dresses are of marked type, they are not bizarre in any way. In fact, they are most refined—black on white or stone color. The best dressed women in Paris are wearing these gowns, which are of a straight chemise-like cut, but tightly draped at the waistline with a string tie of the same material, which seemingly is drawn in as tightly as possible around the figure. This gives the appearance of being practically uncorseted, the stomach and hips bulging in a natural manner.

While the fashions of Jugo-Slav origin were thought by some to be excessive, they really were not. Probably the most remarkable feature about them is the great number of pieces which they embody.

Has Trouserlike Effect. An example of how a costume that is simple and beautiful has been worked out from the long-coat garment with trouserlike underskirt, which was one of the most conspicuous notes in the Jugo-Slav collection, is a Lanvin model. It was she who first introduced this type of dress.

It is developed in pale castor-colored velours de laine, the bottom broad, which takes the place of the trouser underskirt, being black broadcloth and the collar of fisher fur, or pekin, as it is called in France. The underskirt is black, with the exception of a touch of red around the pockets, the prevalent fashion of having a breast pocket for the watch and pen.

She uses it on so many models. The idea, however, is interesting and new.

Monkey Fur Still Popular. Despite its great use last winter, monkey fur continues to be popular. It is very expensive when used in any quantity. As a garniture for dresses and suits it is not considered really smart unless used in the form of deep borders and enveloping collars. Lanvin has a delightful little dress with a deep border of jet black monkey fur at the bottom of the skirt. One of the most successful models from Madeleine is a coat of pearl gray checked in black and trimmed with a wide skirt band and a collar and cuffs of monkey fur. This coat is worn over a black velvet one-piece dress.

As for trimmings there is almost no tailored suit that has not got cringing in the neck for some time. The one-piece tailored dresses, or robe manteaux, are also heavily fur trimmed.

One thing specially to be remarked is the little use of the muff. Possibly the mantle type of wrap has made the muff unnecessary, as the wearer folds the mantle around her and holds it in place, thus it would be very awkward to carry a muff.

ODDS AND ENDS Belts are demitied. "Folien green" is a favorite color. Feather dresses are back in vogue. Afternoon gowns show huge revers. Belts are narrow and sometimes wrap the figure twice.

Suit coats are lined with bright printed tussah. Cherry red and pearl gray are favored colors in the military wrap. A general use of platings is noticeable in many of the new frocks.

Checked velours of henna and navy will be used for southern sport wear. Some suit blouses are of high colored silks, trimmed with the suit cloth.

Many tailored blouses for spring will be of plain and frilled dotted Swiss. Accordion-plated insertions may be used to give the prevailing side fullness.

Detachable Capes. Judging from the winter's fashion notes, there are to be a good many coats with detachable capes. Sometimes a little fur cape is to be part of a cloth coat—a detachable part, that may be put on and taken off the coat at will.

Bleach for White Goods. To bleach handkerchiefs, towels, etc., soak overnight in a solution of half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar to each quart of water.

Coat of Blue Velours. Lanvin makes such a coat of very dark blue velours. It has a flared collar of astrachan, the same fur forming an edge down the entire front of the coat and making deep gauntlet cuffs. While this wrap is very simple it is of the type worn over dressy afternoon costumes, as well as a matching coat for the other velours or duvety dresses. It is smart to have one of these long coats exactly matching the frock.

Paris makes a great feature of very heavy velours done in a loop for stitch, like tapestry. This is sometimes sheared to form little square tufts which stand away from the surface of the fabric a quarter of an inch deep. Sometimes a part of the pattern is clipped and the rest left in a tight loop. All patterns are geometrical and form deep, thick-looking borders on coats, collars and cuffs. To some degree this embroidery resembles a fur, it is almost overdone by Premet, as

AMERICAN GOLFERS MAY INVADE ENGLAND

FRANCIS OUIMET BOBBY JONES CHICK EVANS

It is possible that some of the leading young golfers of this country will be seen on courses across the sea in the near future, among them Dave Herron and Bobby Jones. A leading English paper says of the proposed American invasion:

"The extreme youth of the two players who fought out the final match of the American amateur championship has not escaped notice in the press. The winner has just come of age, the runner-up is no more than seventeen. It is highly probable that in the near future one or both of these youngsters will compete for championships over here and we must be prepared to find other golfers, such as Charles Evans and Francis Ouimet, who are still in the fullness of youth and vigor, joining with them in the endeavor to take trophies and titles across the Atlantic. Experiences may suffice to keep them at bay for a time, but youth is bound to tell in the long run, even at the old man's game."

"No doubt the world would continue to go round even if American golfers were to win the amateur championship year after year for a decade or two, but we should not be best pleased by this incident in its progress round the sun."

Cow HEALTH is as important as Good Feeding

When a cow's milk yield falls off, it is more likely to be a question of health than of food. Over-feeding will only make matters worse. Milk cows are subject to impairment of digestive and genital organs and the milk production is immediately reduced.

These vital organs can be kept up and stimulated by feeding KOW-KURE, the great cow medicine. This remedy is a feeding and a medicine. It is a tonic, a laxative, a purgative, a blood purifier, a stimulant, a restorative, and a small package will last a long time.

Gowns That Win Favor in Paris

From present indications, writes a leading fashion correspondent, the Parisienne is not going to adopt any of the fantastic features that appeared in earlier models. She is accepting, however, in a very marked way, certain of the models which have distinct new features without any unbecoming or bizarre silhouette.

The Parisienne is too fond of her own personal appearance to go in for anything that is grotesque. She has worn too many good clothes and has too much personal taste and refinement in dress to go contrary to principles. Thus we find that out of the earlier showings, which carried all kinds of extraordinary hip extensions and queer draperies, loops and draperies, the chic Parisienne has chosen straight lines, simple waistline belted, soft colors and the natural silhouette.

This will come as no surprise to those who are close students of fashion in women's dress. Only the extremists were enthusiastic about the marked hip extensions and the complicated draperies.

Czechoslovak Idea Proves Success. As prophesied, the Lanvin models in the Czechoslovak feeding have proved a success. While these dresses are of unmarked type, they are not blame in any way. In fact, they are most refined—black on white or strong color. The best dressed women in Paris are wearing these gowns, which are of a straight chemise-like cut, but tidily gathered at the waistline with a string tie of the same material, which seemingly is drawn in as lightly as possible around the figure. This gives the appearance of being practically uncorseted, the stomach and hips bulging in a natural manner.

While the fashions of Jugo-Slav origin were thought by some to be extreme, they really were not. Probably the most remarkable feature about them is the great number of ideas which they embody.

Has Trouserlike Effect. An example of how a costume that is simple and beautiful has been worked out from the long-coat parent with trouserlike underskirt, which was one of the most conspicuous notes in the Jugo-Slav collection, is a Lanvin model. It was she who first introduced this type of dress.

It is developed in pale pastel-colored velours de laine, the bottom band, which takes the place of the trouser underskirt, being black broadcloth and the collar of fether fur, or velvet, as it is called in France. The underskirt is black, with the exception of a touch of red around the pockets, the prevalent fashion of having a breast pocket for the watch and she uses it on so many models. The idea, however, is interesting and new.

Monkey Fur Still Popular. Despite its great use last winter, monkey fur continues to be popular. It is very expensive when used in any quantity. As a garment for dresses and suits it is not considered really smart unless used in the form of deep borders and enveloping collars. Lanvin has a delightful little dress with a deep border of jet black monkey fur at the bottom of the skirt. One of the most successful models from Mado-belle is a coat of pearl gray checked in black and trimmed with a white skirt band and a collar and cuffs of monkey fur. This coat is worn over a black velvet one-piece dress.

As to fur trimmings there is almost no tailored suit that has not far trimmed of some kind. The unappealing tailored dresses, or robe mantes, are also heavily fur trimmed.

One thing specially to be remarked is the little use of the muff. Possibly the mantle-type of wrap has made the muff unnecessary, as the wrap folds the mantle around her and holds it in place, thus it would be very awkward to carry a muff.

ODDS AND ENDS. Hells are sanctified. "Tulson green" is a favorite color. Feather dresses are much in vogue. Afternoon gowns show huge revers. Belts are narrow and sometimes wrap the figure twice.

Suit coats are lined with bright printer's tussah. Cherry red and pearl gray are favored colors in the millinery world. A general use of platings is noticeable in many of the new frocks.

Checked velours of henna and navy will be used for southern sport wear. Some suit blouses are of high colored silks, trimmed with the suit cloth.

Many tailored blouses for spring will be of plain and fitted dotted swiss. Accordion-plated insertions may be used to give the prevailing side fullness.

Detachable Capes. Judging from the winter's fashion notes, there are to be a good many coats with detachable capes. Sometimes a little fur cape is to be part of a cloth coat—a detachable part, that may be put on and taken off the coat at will.

Bleach for White Goods. To bleach handkerchiefs, towels, etc., soak overnight in a solution of one tablespoonful of cream of tartar to each quart of water.

Coat of Blue Velours. Paqueta makes such a coat of very dark blue velours. It has a flared collar at astrachan, the same fur forming an edge down the entire front of the coat and making deep gauntlet cuffs. While this wrap is very simple it is of the type worn over dressy afternoon costumes, as well as a matching coat for the older velours or daveny dresses. It is smart to have one of these long coats exactly matching the frock.

Paris makes a great feature of very heavy wool embroidery done in a loop stitch, like tapestry. This is sometimes sheared to form little square tufts which stand away from the surface of the fabric a quarter of an inch deep. Sometimes a part of the pattern is clipped and the rest left in a tight loop. All patterns are geometrical and form deep, thick-looking borders on coats, collars and cuffs. To some degree this embroidery resembles a fur. It is almost overcome by Premier, as "It is only natural that Cobb would begin to slow up. Any player will after going through such a long and active career as Cobb has enjoyed."

"However, he still knows how to hit the ball and has few superiors in the outfield, and even with his decreased speed he is faster than a majority of players. That is why I still consider him the most valuable player in the game."

AL SHRUBB PICKS ATHLETES Little Britisher Thinks Oxford Is Particularly Strong in Long-Distance Runners.

At Shrubb believes England stands a fair chance to win the Antwerp Olympic games in 1920. Shrubb is now in England coaching the University of Oxford athletes. He says that never was England so well off in athletic material.

According to the Little Britisher, Oxford is particularly strong in middle and long distance runners, while throughout England the recent sports meetings have shown that in the other events Jimmy Bull is likewise pretty well entrenched. From the foregoing it will be seen that the Olympic games next year are not going to be any open-and-shut affair for the Americans.

SELECT OLYMPIC COMMITTEE Members Representing New Zealand, Chile, France and Finland Have Been Elected.

DAYS OF GLORY HAVE PASSED Owen Moran, Great Little Fighter Ten Years Ago, Is Doing as Best He Can.

Owen Moran, who was a great little fighter ten years ago, and who is remembered by hosts of boxing enthusiasts, is now doing the best he can on the British race courses. He is one of the few of the modern school of boxing who did not put his windings away for a rainy day.

Masters Is Elected. C. E. Masters, 21 of Newton Centre, Mass., has been elected captain of the Harvard varsity soccer team for next year.

Pittston Forfeits Franchise. Slim attendance at the games played at home last season resulted in Pittston forfeiting its franchise in the Intercounty Basketball league.

Fortunately the tragedies of the football season were few and far between.

Southern League Schedule. The Southern league has decided to increase its 1920 schedule to 154 games. This league, like the majors, played a 140-game schedule last season.

Saltee Likes Cincinnati. Slim Saltee appears to like Cincinnati. The veteran southpaw had a short conference with Garry Herrmann a few days ago and when it was over unannounced he made that Saltee had agreed upon terms for the 1920 season.

Thousands of Happy Housewives in WESTERN CANADA

are helping their husbands to prosper—are glad they encouraged them to go where they could make a home of their own—save paying rent and reduce cost of living—where they could reach property and independence by their own sweat and tears.

Fertile Land at $16 to $30 an Acre—Land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 40 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. With such crops come prosperity, independence, good homes, and all the comforts and conveniences which make for happy living.

Farm Gardens—Poultry—Dairying are sources of income second only to grain growing and stock raising. Good climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, rural telephones, stores, a wide variety of opportunities of a new land with the comfort of a home and a good income.

So Subtle! "Not all the poets" observed a frequent of cosmopolitan society "have the gift of uttering quick, lightning, magical nothings in society."

"I know of one poet, greatly in vogue in Paris some years ago, who was not exactly a fluent dispenser of epigram. He was invited to the house of a great lady of the Faubourg St. Germain, and as soon as he had entered he became the recipient of a flood of admirers, who called out to him in some subtle or poetic manner. The poet remained silent, lit at ease, red in the face, and mused of feet.

"Come, my dear poet," the hostess finally begged, say something to us!" "Have you observed—dearest," he faltered, desperately, "that—this—year's paw tickets are pluk?"

She Was a Peach. Three-year-old Mary Ellen demands a reason for everything and some of the reasons are mother's sudden inspirations. Sometimes she passes them on to other children. "The other afternoon a group of children was talking to the wee miss, all giving her that sort of confused, half-knowing as "naffy." Mary Ellen ate it with relish. And dandy she turned to the child nearest her. "Do you think I'm pretty? Don't you think I'm sweet?" she asked.

He answered in the affirmative. "Well," she smiled sweetly, "my mamma found me in a peach basket." Two or three of the children giggled but twelve-year-old Arthur sprang gallantly to the rescue. "No wonder you're such a little peach," he returned.

SWITCH OFF!

Put aside the Salts, Oil, Calomel, or Pills and take "Cascarets."

Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely whipping them into action every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Oil, or Purgative Waters?

Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets gently cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the colon and bowels all the constipated waste matter and poisons so you can straighten up.

Cascarets tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, or cause any inconvenience, and cost no little too—45c.

Was Going Down-Hill Mrs. Bergman's Friends Were Worried, but Doan's Brought Remarkable Recovery From Kidney Complaint.

"I couldn't sit down without putting a pillow behind my back," says Mrs. Doan Bergman, 820 Pennsylvania St., Gary, Ind. "When I bent over it felt as though somebody had stuck a knife right into my back and I would often fall to the floor. The kidney secretions made me get up four or five times a night. There would be only a small amount, which would turn so that I would almost scream. Before long my body bloated and my feet were so swollen that I could not wear my shoes. My skin looked shiny and when I pressed it down it left a dent. I had chills and fever. Sometimes I would sweat so that I could fairly wring the water out of my clothes. Everybody said I was going down-hill fast. In two months I lost fifteen pounds and was discouraged. By the time I had finished three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was better and I had enjoyed the best of health ever since."

HOW IS YOUR EXPRESSION?

Well to Remember Sometimes That a Man Is Apt to Be Judged by His Looks.

What kind of expression do you wear habitually? Is it sour, morose, repellent? Is it a mean, ugly, contemptible, uncharitable, intolerant expression? Do you wear the expression of a bulldog, a grasping, greedy, hungry expression, which indicates an avaricious nature? Do you go about among the members of your family with a thunder-cloud expression, with a melancholy, despondent, hopeless look on your face? Do you wear the sunshine expression and radiate good cheer and hope which indicates a feeling of good will and of helpfulness? These questions are asked by a keen student of nature, writing in a recent publication.

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ON PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
April 6, 1920.
State of Wisconsin, Department of State.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at the time of holding the regular Spring Judicial and National Delegate Elections, to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election districts of the state of Wisconsin, on the first Tuesday of April, 1920, being the sixth day of said month, in accordance with Section 1 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and as directed by Chapters 450 and 604, Laws of Wisconsin 1919, the following proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin, which were twice adopted by the Wisconsin legislature at the regular sessions of 1917 and 1919, and published for three months as required by said Section 1 of Article XII of the Wisconsin Constitution will be submitted to a vote of the electors of this state for their ratification or rejection in such manner as is provided by law. (Jt. Res. No. 13, A.)
JOINT RESOLUTION
No. 37, 1919
To amend section 21 of Article IV of the constitution, relating to compensation of members of the legislature.

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1917, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:
Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That section 21 of Article IV of the constitution be amended to read: (Article IV) Section 21. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services, such sum as shall be paid at such times and in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. * * * The compensation prescribed for members of the legislature immediately prior to the adoption of this amendment shall continue in force until changed by the legislature in a manner consistent with the other provisions of the constitution, now, therefore, be it Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.
NOTED.—It is ratified this amendment will authorize any legislature to fix the compensation of members of the succeeding legislature at more or less than the present allowance of $500 for the term of two years) (Jt. Res. No. 100, B.)
JOINT RESOLUTION
No. 92, 1919
To amend sections 6 and 7 of Article VII of the constitution, relating to the state of Wisconsin, relating to circuit judges.

WHEREAS, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1917, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:
Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That section 6, Article VII, and section 7, Article VII of the constitution, be amended to read: (Article VII) Section 6. The legislature may alter the limits, decrease or increase the number of circuits, making them as compact and convenient as practicable, and bounding them by county lines; but no such alteration, decrease or increase shall have the effect to remove a judge from office. In case of an increase in circuits, the judge of judges shall be elected as provided in this constitution and receive a salary not less than that here provided for judges of the circuit court.
Section 7. For each circuit there shall be chosen by the qualified electors thereof one or more circuit judges, * * * as the legislature may from time to time authorize. * * * Every circuit judge shall reside in the circuit from which he is elected and shall hold his office for such term and receive such compensation as the legislature shall prescribe; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.
NOTED.—It is ratified this amendment will permit the legislature to abolish any judicial circuit at the expiration of the term of its circuit judge, to decrease the number of circuits by consolidation or otherwise, and to authorize one or more judges for any circuit.
Given under my hand and official seal at the Capitol, in the City of Madison, this 16th day of January, A. D. 1920.

SAVINGS CERTIFICATES OUT; INVESTMENT VALUE SHOWN

"They Always Are Worth More Than You Paid for Them," Slogan of 1920.

"They are always worth more than you paid for them." With this as their slogan representatives of the War Savings organization of the Seventh federal reserve district are touring the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin showing banks, corporations and individuals the high investment value of the 1920 Treasury Savings certificates of $100 and $1,000 denominations. This form of government security has been placed in local banks, and for the financial prosperity of the nation and the individual, the government is urging a wide distribution.

The Treasury Savings certificates, which are virtually "Baby" bonds, bear interest at a rate a little better than 4 1/2 per cent. The price of the $100 certificates for January is $82.40; February $82.60. The price increases 20 cents a month. The $1,000 certificates may be purchased in January for $824 and in February for $826. This class of security increases $2 a month.

Here are some of the attractive features of the $100 and $1,000 certificates:

They carry valuable tax-exemption privileges.

They cannot depreciate in value, not being subject to market fluctuations.

They are always worth more than you paid for them.

They yield a substantial income, actually more than 4 1/2 per cent.

They are short term, maturing January 1, 1925.

They represent absolute safety as obligations of the United States government.

A change has been made in the terms of the 1920 certificates. They are redeemable at the treasury beginning with the second calendar month after the month of purchase without the ten days' demand required by the terms of the 1919 certificates.

A special issue of Treasury Savings certificates has been put on the market for conversion purposes. It is possible for the holders of 1918 and 1919 War Savings certificates to convert them into these special Treasury Savings certificates, whose terms and conditions are substantially the same as those of the 1920 issue except for their earlier maturity dates.

Holders of one or more War Savings certificates of the 1918 or 1919 issue which bear War Savings stamps having a total maturity value of $100 or some multiple of a hundred dollars—$200, $300, $400, etc., may exchange the certificates for the same maturity value of Treasury Savings certificates of the corresponding issue. When two or more War Savings certificates of the same issue are offered for exchange, each one need not bear its full complement of 29 War Savings stamps, provided the total value of the stamps aggregates $100 or some multiple of it.

Treasury Savings certificates taken in exchange may be made put in favor of new and different owners, if the owners of the War Savings certificates so request.

WOMEN ARE KEEPING BOOKS IN 1920 THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Feminine Army Starts Three Months' Test to Pave Way for Safe Investment.

The savings division of the treasury department is depending on the women of the nation not only to help bring down the high cost of living, but to establish the permanent practice of saving money and material, and finally the investing of these savings in safe securities, such as War Savings stamps and $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings certificates.

Under the signature of William Mather Lewis, director of the savings division, a letter has been sent to the presiding officers of all the principal women's organizations of the country. The federal plan for the work of the women in 1920 has been worked out in a national way by Mrs. Grace G. Bartlett, vice director in charge of women's organizations.

Supplementing the letters sent out by her and Director Lewis, a similar letter has been sent to all the women's organizations in the five states of the Seventh district that have no national thrift chairman. In his letter Director Lewis said in part:

"The influence of women in working out the great economic problems is invaluable. It is in the power of women to regulate the use and control the price of the necessities of life. They are the buyers. They must also be the savers. When this power is applied in a concentrated way, women will be one of the greatest factors in solving the present problem of the high cost of living and in establishing the permanent practice of saving money and material. The savings division called into conference the national thrift chairmen of the following women's organizations:

Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Daughters of the American Revolution, General Federation of Women's Clubs, National Catholic Welfare Council, National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' associations, National Council of Jewish Women, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, National League for Women's Service, Women's department, National City Federation, Young Women's Christian association.

"It was agreed that these organizations should be asked to make a test among their membership of the wisdom with which money is spent. This test was to be started January 1 and continued as an experiment through February and March. The plan is as follows:

"January—To keep accounts. Each individual will be asked to keep an account of her daily expenses, grouping them under such items as rent, food, clothing, household service, amusements, incidentals, etc.

"February—To save. Each individual will analyze the January expenses and make an effort through information gained in January to save a certain amount through conservation without hardship.

"March—To invest. Each individual will make a calculation of how much was saved on living expenses in February over an equal number of days in January. In this month an effort will be made to encourage the members of these organizations to invest their savings in government securities."

Like Attracts Like

Sensible people want a sensible, serviceable and durable roof.

That's why we sell and recommend MULE-HIDE, the roofing made by a slow process of manufacture.

This slow process works the full weather-resistance of dense, heavy asphalt into the felt.

We have everything to build with--look our line over.
